Creating Your Own NGO

ABOUT THIS WEBINAR SERIES

The webinar series 'The road less travelled' aims at highlighting the careers and career paths that are possible after a master in human rights. The series explores the more unusual career paths that lead the graduates to careers in journalism, art, philanthropy, coaching ... or see graduates working for the private sector, local authorities, etc. How do they use their knowledge in human rights in their professional and personal lives? Which difference did it make for them to study human rights. As Robert Frost wrote in his poem:

*Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
I took the one less travelled by,
And that has made all the difference.*

CREATING YOUR OWN NGO

The fourth webinar of this series focuses on graduates who decided to create their own NGOs or initiatives.

What motivated them to make the leap and create an NGO instead of joining one? Which knowledge and skills from their human rights studies are they using in running their NGO/initiative? Which impact do they have with their NGOs? Which advice would they give to graduates wanting to start their own NGO?

MODERATOR

Véronique Lerch, Independent Human Rights Consultant – Alumna of GC Europe

Hazem Mizyed is a communications consultant who has a background in psychology, and combines communications psychology with digital marketing to empower human rights. He joined the Arab Master in Democracy and Human Rights (ARMA) in 2018 with a mission to launch online child rights projects that support children's human rights in the MENA region. He led a campaign to support the mental health of children during Covid-19, and a campaign to help Gazian parents see signs their children are suffering from PTSD following the 2019 Gaza war. Besides working with various organizations, he is establishing Green Awareness, the first platform for raising the awareness of young people in the MENA region about human rights and environmentally friendly practices.
